BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - A charity fund raising method is provided to perform an auction on valuables, donated by contributors, at the highest bidding price among the bidding prices over the ones presented by the contributors, and save up the selling money except an operation cost.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - The method comprises steps of accepting the possessions from domestic or foreign contributors over the Internet, introducing a photo and a personal profile of the contributor and an explanation of the possessions to attract an interest of the auction participants, notifying the auction participants of a minimum bidding price presented by the contributors, determining a successful bidder by using an auction process, collecting the selling money, and donating the raised fund to various businesses hoped by the contributors.
